My Portfolio Site

- For this project I have created my own personal portfolio website. It is a project broken up into key sections about myself as a developer. It uses the react framework and utilizes state management. The website is made completely from scratch and includes my own logo of which I have crafted specifically for this site. The site was created with accessibility and responsive design being the most important features of the project. The languages used are a combination of HTML, SASS, and Javascript.
